

CAN'T TELL WHERE ONE-THIRD OF MONEY SPENT BY HOME BUILDING ASSOCIATION WENT, SAY AUDITORS

Report of Bishop, Brissman and Company Says Money Not Traceable to Houses

REPORTS IRREGULARITIES

Deficit of Association Now Placed at $159,000 and Will Be Increased

More than one-third of the money spent by the state-owned, state-operated Home Building association in building houses in the state cannot be traced to any particular building, according to the audit report of Bishop, Brissman and company, made public today.

The association spent $160,832.57 on the houses, for which there is no record to show how it was spent, the report says. The auditors were able to trace the expenditure of $274,707.85.

The deficit of the association may reach beyond the previously estimated figure of $250,000 should the persons for whom houses were built win the law suits which have been instituted against them to compel them to pay the full cost of the houses. The deficit on Dec. 31, 1921, was $159,874.74, according to the report, subject to final disposition of the construction accounts which includes the $160,832.57 for which there is no record of expenditure.

Many irregularities.

The audit of the Bishop, Brissman and company confirms many statements made of the association's activities in previous audits, and goes farther in reporting a score of irregularities. Among the striking irregularities reported are:

On four cars of lumber and one car of shingles shipped to Hazen there was $2,749.59 of the purchase price unaccounted for in sales or other disposition.

No adequate record of cash sales of materials was kept. Receipts for sales amounting to $3,308.37 were in the form of cash entries, and it was impossible to determine individual purchasers.

F. R. Pollard, former purchasing agent of the association, ordered three cars of plaster shipped to the North Dakota Farmers Lumber Co. and then the Home Building association bought the plaster of the lumber company at a profit of $344.86 to the lumber company. Pollard endorsed the check made to the lumber company.

"Correspondence received from the Dakota Plaster Co. indicates that four additional cars were shipped to the North Dakota Farmers Lumber Co. and a letter from them January 18, 1922, states: 'They were bought in the same way, and billed to the N. D. Lbr. Co., but as we advised, Mr. Pollard arranged to meet him at Huron where he advised the material was for the association, and not for the Lumber Co., and wanted a letter clearing the items from the Lumber Co.'s books," says the report. The Dakota Plaster Co. asks the Home Building association to pay for this material.

Records of the secretary of state's office show the North Dakota Farmers Lumber Co. of Fargo, was incorporated Sept. 13, 1920, for $50,000. Incorporators, F. R. Pollard, H. Behrens, H. E. More. The charter was cancelled.

COLD WEATHER CHECKS RIVER

Is Falling at Williston, Weather Bureau Reports

The thermometer hit 6 below zero in Bismarck today, according to the United States Weather Bureau records. The cold snap stopped the sudden rise of the Missouri river at Williston and probably postponed the breaking up of ice here. The river was still rising here today, however. It was 8 below at Williston this morning, while the coldest spot on the weather map was Prince Albert, with 22 below.

The forecast for Bismarck and vicinity is for probably snow Wednesday with rising temperature.

Reports from Mandan said the Heart river had frozen over again, and with the heavy fall of snow, it is feared that this stream will go on the rampage again when it does break up.

MURPHY SEATED BY STATE BODY OVER J. I. CAHILL

Board of Administration Votes Two to One to Seat R. B. Murphy, New Appointee

CAHILL GOES TO COURT

R. B. Murphy, recently appointed member of the state board of administration by Governor Nestos after he declared J. I. Cahill had forfeited the office by failing to qualify, today was seated by the board.

A session of the board was held this morning. Both Mr. Murphy and Mr. Cahill were present. The question of which was entitled to participate in the board meeting was before the board. Commissioners of Agriculture and Labor J. A. Kitchen and Miss Nielson, ex-officio members of the board, voted to seat Mr. Murphy, while Mr. Muir voted to seat Mr. Cahill. George Totten, member of the board, was not present. Mr. Murphy then was seated.

Mr. Cahill addressed the board, stating he considered himself still a member of the board of administration, and said that the courts would have to settle the matter.

Mr. Cahill and Mr. Murphy met for the first time yesterday afternoon and held a conference. They discussed the situation, but reached no agreement for an amicable settlement.

The state auditing board, in meeting yesterday afternoon, disapproved a salary voucher for Mr. Cahill for the entire month of March and ordered a new voucher drawn paying Mr. Cahill for 14 days and Mr. Murphy for the remainder of the month. Mr. Cahill refused to sign the voucher.

The auditing board decision to honor vouchers for Mr. Murphy closes the matter so far as it and the governor are concerned.

IOWA WOMEN IN VICTORIES AT CITY ELECTIONS

Ticket Which Issued Ultimatum to Young Men, However, Goes Down to Defeat

Des Moines, Ia., March 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Activity of women in the political affairs of Iowa towns and cities at yesterday's election is believed to have brought about election of two women members as mayor, victory to candidates they endorsed in other towns, the defeat of Sunday motion pictures at Ames and New Sharon and the routing of the town pool hall at Newmarket.

At Charlotte, where a hot fight was fought with a women's ticket standing against bootleggers and the young women were reported to have issued an ultimatum to their male friends to support the women's ticket or quit courting them, the women's ticket was defeated.

WOMEN STORM POLLS

Britt, Iowa, March 28.—This town was furnished conclusive proof yesterday that the feminine vote must be reckoned with. C. Armstrong with such frequency that he was elected over H. C. Meyers.

30 HORSES ARE FOUND DEAD

New England, N. D., March 28.—A tragic proof of the intensity of the blizzard of Washington's birthday, February 22, in southeastern North Dakota was uncovered by the thaws of the last week at a point south of Bentley. Thirty horses, frozen stiff were found standing upright in a deep snowdrift on the east side of a steep hill. It was apparent that they had sought shelter in the lee of the hill, but had gradually been covered with snow and had frozen to death while standing in the drifts.

CITY BODY TO PURCHASE FIRE FIGHTING TRUCK

Commissioners at Meeting Last Night Decide to Receive Bids April 17

USE PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Speed in Getting to Fires Main Incentive of Commission For Purchase

The city commission, in meeting last night, decided to advertise for bids for a truck to be used by the fire department. Bids will be received on April 17.

After periodic discussion continuing for several months the members of the commission agreed to purchase a light truck on which the present apparatus can be mounted. The specifications named in the advertisement for bids authorized follow:

"Not over two ton nor less than one ton in weight, not less than four nor more than six cylinders, pneumatic tires, electric lighted, starter and generator, capable of making speed of 35 miles per hour."

The commission reserves the right to reject any or all bids. The commission discussed the specifications included in the bid. It was decided that a truck should be obtained heavy enough to carry the weight of the present equipment on the horse-drawn truck, about 4,500 pounds with hose and men, and capable of making a speed up to 35 miles an hour.

Since the discussion and consideration of the truck problem began it was agreed by the commissioners, all voting for the proposal last night, that the present equipment should be utilized on a truck which can be purchased for $2,400 to $3,000, and to discontinue use of the horses. The present truck can be used as auxiliary apparatus if it is later decided to get a more expensive truck. One of the reasons which impelled the commission to decide upon this sort of apparatus is that the price on the specially built motor apparatus has not decreased in the last few months, as much as in some other lines, and there is a feeling that there will be a further drop in price.

There has been considerable sentiment manifest among business men for purchasing a light apparatus rather than expensive equipment at this time. It is said that the speed with which most fires are reached is the controlling element in fire fighting, and it is felt that a truck would minimize damage frequently caused by delay in getting to fires which necessitates the throwing of a great quantity of water.

The following bids were allowed:

George Gussner	18.00
R. W. Sanders	29.97
Police payroll	54.00
P. P. Logan	19.27
Fire department payroll	47.00
P. P. Logan	29.42
B. M. Beers & Son	12.35
Street and sewer department	134.50

WIFE IS HELD WHEN HUSBAND IS SHOT DEAD

Casper, Wyoming Man, is Shot While on Board Train in Minnesota Last Night

STRUGGLED OVER GUN

Wife of Man Shot Says That She Struggled to Take Gun Away From Him

LeSeuer, Minn., March 28.—Mrs. E. C. Bell, of Casper, Wyo., is being held by the police here without charge in connection with the death of her husband, who died of a gunshot wound shortly after he was removed from a Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha passenger train here last night.

Bell was shot while in a state room which he and his wife occupied during a scuffle in which four shots were fired, according to Mrs. Bell today.

The authorities have little information. Mrs. Bell told them an incoherent story.

Mrs. Bell showed signs of a struggle she said she made to prevent the shooting, according to physicians who visited her at her hotel this morning. Her arms were badly bruised, the marks of fingers being still visible and her face is puffed from bumps which she said she received when thrown against the side of the state room.

Her husband, she said, had been drinking heavily before they left Minneapolis last night and she experienced considerable difficulty in getting him not to continue drinking as he boarded the train but he invited several passengers to the state room continuing his drinking bout.

The shooting, she said, occurred when the train neared this place. She could not be certain, she said, if the shots were directed at her.

"I tried to get the gun away from him and I do not know what position we were in when the bullet which struck him was fired," she said.

"All he said was 'Well, I'm shot,'" Mrs. Bell said the struggle for possession of the pistol took place when her husband took the gun from under his pillow and began to shoot.

AVIATORS WILL TRY TO CIRCLE ENTIRE WORLD

English Aviators to Start Through Southern Europe on Their Flight

Washington, March 28.—By direction of the foreign office in London the British embassy here has requested the state department here to have all proper facilities extended to Sir Ross and Keith Smith, British aviators, when they reach the United States on their attempted aerial circumnavigation of the world.

Sir Ross, with his brother, Sir Keith, accomplished the flight from England to Australia more than a year ago. Their latest adventure will involve a start from London, April 20, the first stop being in France. The route lies across southern Europe, Asia Minor, India, China, Japan and Siberia. The Pacific will be crossed at Bering Strait, landing being made on some of the Aleutian islands and in Alaska.

The course will then be across Canada to the Soo, where it will swing to the southwest to New York. Then the line will be along the New England coast to Newfoundland where the start will be made across the Atlantic.

If weather conditions are favorable an attempt will be made to reach Ireland directly from Newfoundland, following the course taken by Hawk-er. Otherwise the plane will be directed to the Azores.

The adventurers will use a Vickers "Viking Amphibian" plane, which can be landed on either land or water.

TOWNLEY ASKS DISMISSAL OF CHARGES MADE

Claims Statute of Limitations Has Expired in Allegations Against Him

MOTION IS REJECTED

Taking of Evidence Begins with Ole Engen, Bank Receiver, on Witness Stand

Fargo, March 28.—The preliminary hearing of A. C. Townley, charged with embezzlement of $3,000 from the defunct Scandinavian-American bank, was permitted to continue today.

Judge A. T. Cole, in Cass county district court this morning, overruled a demurrer filed by the defense and declared that the defense motion for dismissal was a matter to be decided upon the hearing of evidence. This motion for dismissal was based on the ground that the alleged offense had been committed more than three years before the complaint was filed and that the statute of limitations had become effective.

Taking of evidence began with Ole Engen, receiver of the bank, on the stand identifying records.

W. S. Lander of Wahpeton, Leslie Simpson of Dickinson and Seth Richardson of Fargo are representing Mr. Townley, while the prosecution is in the hands of Attorney General Sveinbjorn Johnson, his chief assistant, George Shafer, and C. C. Wattam, assistant states attorney for Cass county.

Brevig on Stand.

Leslie Simpson, counsel for Townley this afternoon promised a "Roman holiday" before the proceeding end.

The rest of the morning session was taken up with testimony of N. J. Brevig, 11 years assistant cashier of the bank. He identified a draft drawn on J. J. Hantman, vice-president of the bank by T. P. Harvey, States Sinal Trust; a draft drawn by his bank on a Minneapolis bank in payment of this one, and a note given to his bank signed by the United States Sinal Trust by J. J. Hastings as trustee.

Entry of the last transaction was of January 20, 1919, he said.

The Sinal concern paid the $3,000 note by renewal April 7, 1919, and took out a new note for $9,000 the witness testified.

The trial is expected to last for several days.

JAMESTOWN CONVENTIONS OF REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR APRIL 19

FRAZIER WILL BE CANDIDATE HE ANNOUNCES

Former Governor Says That He Will Be in the Campaign For U. S. Senator

SLOGAN ADOPTED FOR HIM

Fargo, March 28.—Former Governor Lynn J. Frazier has formally accepted the endorsement of the Non-partisan league convention at Fargo for the United States senatorship. Mr. Frazier had said some time ago that he was not a candidate and did not care for public office again.

At a meeting of Nonpartisan league members here following the convention, J. C. Miller of Bottineau, suggested as a slogan for the Frazier campaign: "Here is My Dollar to Send Frazier to Washington."

The formal statement of Mr. Frazier follows:

"In accepting the nomination, tendered by the state convention, it is both a duty and a pleasure to record my deep appreciation of the honor done me and the confidence shown in me.

"I have, so to speak, been 'drafted' in your service. There are easier and more pleasant paths to follow than those you have called on me to walk in. Yet I am ready to yield to your wishes and bow to the united opinion of the farmers and laborers of the state, if in their judgment I shall serve them and aid them in attaining the ends of justice and equity to which they have set themselves.

"My efforts and my strength will be freely and willingly given in this campaign. But I wish to remind you that no one man can win the fight alone. We must have the faithful, unswerving and loyal hands of the farmers and laborers of this state behind the whole ticket. The nominees are but their representatives. Agriculture and labor can secure the recognition they should have in Washington and at Bismarck—if they desire it earnestly enough.

"I am ready to do my part. I know and believe that those who have called me stand ready and anxious to do theirs. If they do, there will be no doubt as to the outcome, or question as to the victory of the friends of progressive government."

SENATE AGREES ON PROVISOS TO 4-POWER PACT

Senate Unravels Its Tangled Situation to Satisfaction of All

Washington, March 28.—The senate finally untangled its parliamentary difficulties over the four power treaty supplements by joining the two supplementary agreements together and then ratifying them both by unanimous vote.

One of the supplements, itself in the form of a treaty, defines the geographical scope of the four power pact so as not to include the Japanese homeland. The other, attached to the first by today's action in the form of a "reservation" stipulates domestic character cannot be brought before the four power "conferences."

The vote on the double-barreled ratification resolution was 73 to 0, opponents of the four power plan joining in giving approval to the supplements because they interpreted the two agreements as limiting and curtailing the operation of the principal treaty. Several attempts to attach other reservations which had failed when the four power treaty itself was under consideration were defeated by the usual pro-treaty and anti-treaty lineup.

TAKE UP TREATY

Washington, March 28.—With action on the four-power Pacific treaty completed by ratification of the two supplementary agreements the senate was prepared to begin debate today on the naval limitation treaty establishing a 5-5-3 capital ship ratio for the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Call Issued in Fargo Today By Spalding and Attorney-General Johnson

CANDIDATES MENTIONED

Governor Nestos Expected To Be Endorsed for Re-nomination at Convention

The next state convention in line will be held at Jamestown on Wednesday, April 19, it was announced today in Fargo.

Burleigh Spalding, chairman of the Real Republican committee, issued a call for a convention to meet on that date in Jamestown and Sveinbjorn Johnson, attorney general and chairman of the Democratic state committee, issued a call for the assembling of Democrats in Jamestown on that date.

Arrangements have been made for 436 Republican delegates, while the basis of the Democratic representation has not been fixed.

Both conventions are expected to endorse candidates for state office. The Democratic convention probably will nominate J. F. T. O'Connor as a candidate for United States senator. Whether the convention called by Mr. Spalding will endorse anyone for that position or not is a matter of debate among many politicians. Since there already are three candidates in the field, Lynn J. Frazier, A. J. Gronna and Porter J. McCumber, it is felt by some that the convention ought not to endorse a candidate. On the other hand, there are many who believe that the convention should endorse a candidate. There are several men in the state who would like to be candidates for senator with the backing of some organization, and there may be several in the field.

Suggested Candidates:

Among those suggested as candidates are: Judge A. M. Christianson, Former Governor L. B. Hanna, Ormsby McFarland, Jerry Bacon and Oscar Seiler. C. A. Johnson of Minot will be a candidate, according to announcement of his brother some days ago.

It is expected that the Republican convention will endorse Governor Nestos for re-nomination and some of the other state officers. The only announced candidates who are not now in office are H. L. Stegner of Bismarck and W. D. Austin of Fargo for Commissioner of Insurance, and George Shafer, assistant attorney general, for that position. Judge W. L. Nussle of district court, has been mentioned as a candidate for the supreme court in Bismarck and in that connection the appointment of C. L. Young to the district bench to succeed Judge Nussle has been suggested.

CLAIMS MADE SLAVERY EXISTS IN HONG KONG

Chinese Boys and Girls Sold and Bought at From $10 To $15 Per Year of Age

50,000 HELD IN BONDAGE

London, March 27.—The sale of boys and girls at Hong Kong has been denounced as "an abominable scandal in a British possession" at a meeting of the Anti-Slavery Aborigines Protection society here.

St. Loe Strachey, editor of the Spectator, wrote that if the facts were as represented, the state of affairs in Hong Kong represented the vilest form of slavery in existence when young people were deliberately sold and subjected to the cruel lust and greed of their purchasers.

The resolution was passed declaring that continuance of the system amounted to the continuance of slavery under the British flag.

It was estimated at the meeting that those held in bondage under this system numbered 50,000.

A score of societies were represented at the conference which was held to determine what steps should be taken to stop the sale of children.

Viscountess Gladstone, who presided declared that the system ought to be abolished. She said she did not think that any British man or woman could have believed it possible that anywhere under the British flag children four years of age and upward could have been openly sold and handed over as chattels to their purchasers to become drudges or victims of prostitution.

She said, however, that the matter was not so simple as it looked because "the adoption" system was not a wrong thing in itself.

Charles Roberts, formerly Under-Secretary for India and President of the Anti-Slavery society, said it was an established fact that Chinese girls and boys were sold and bought in Hong Kong at from $10 to $15 per year of age and it was a significant fact that higher prices were obtainable when girls were sold for purposes of prostitution. Yet they could not get the Colonial Office to admit that a system was one of slavery. It was enough for him that it constituted traffic in human beings which ought to be put down by law.

RUSSIANS HAVE MORE SMILES MORE PARTIES

They no Longer Fear Very Much
The Ire of The Inquisition—
Say What They Think

REVELLING IN FREEDOM

Moscow, March 27.—Curtailment of the powers of the dreaded Cheka has loosened Russia's tongue and is restoring a measure of its old life. No longer greatly fearing the ire of the inquisition, most of Moscow's residents, though still somewhat chary of talking politics in public places, have little hesitation now in expressing what they think of things in general.

They smile more often, give more "parties," and are beginning again to extend old time Russian hospitality to strangers without fear that the presence of an unknown guest in their quarters will bring an armed Cheka agent there to investigate.

Pallid young men of the old class of aristocrats, who survived the world war, perhaps two or three campaigns of the civil war and who spent time in prisons are returning to their old habits of enjoyment. Some of them look like ghosts returned to a land that is a graveyard of their former wealth but, if they are ghosts, they are merry ones and dance gaily on their own tombstones.

Conditions have changed, and they must spend a part of their hours in working. They have few or no servants and must do their own washing and cooking.

The princess who once ordered from Paris half a dozen gowns at a time, herself, mends that one of 1914 vintage which she managed to save. But she wears it gaily and, since the Cheka menace seems one only to remember and even joke about, she dances in it all night.

The "ghosts" are happy to escape the grave. The nightmare fears seem behind them. They are revelling in freedom. Four years of army rations, two years of prison soup, a year or so of nothing much at all and now champagne and caviar, even if it takes the last of the rubles they carry as clerks, mechanics, chauffeurs, or any other job open for a prince, baron or count.

A bottle of vodka may represent the price they got for the last trinket their aristocratic old grandmother managed to save. But the Cheka is not at the door tonight. Tomorrow may go hang.

OIL INTERESTS BACK BAKU DRIVE, REDS SAY

Locate of Wrangel's reported campaign. He will move his army from Belgrade to the Russian coast, cross the Black Sea to Batum and proceed across country to Baku.

by NEA Service

London, March 27.—With the wickedest city in the world as his objective, General Baron Peter Wrangel will muster his 30,000 shattered troops and enter upon a new military offensive, bolshevist officials here say they are informed.

Wrangel, bolshevists say, will march on Baku, capital of the baby republic of Azerbaijan, most prolific single oil-producing center in the world.

Baku, before the war characterized by the gambling, vice and general looseness of an oil boom town made doubly worse by its Oriental atmosphere, recently has become a haven of war refugees of all races and has lost all semblance of law and restraint.

But that doesn't affect the value of Baku's oil. The wells of the district are located very near the city. Oil is piped to the city and there prepared for export.

The total output of Baku's wells sometimes amounts to 242,321,000 gallons a year!

Has Foreign Backing

To capture this prize, bolshevists say, some French and American oil interests will finance Wrangel's campaign.

If Wrangel succeeds, he will set up a government with himself at the head and the oil concessions over to these Franco-American interests.

Wrangel, former anti-bolshevist leader in the Crimea, is one of the most picturesque characters post-war days brought forth.

He was born Aug. 15, 1878, of an old Russian noble family which had numbered many military and naval men, explorers and diplomats.

As a youth he attended college as a student of mining engineering. He became a Russian army lieutenant in 1902.

Decoration in War

In the Russo-Japanese war he was twice promoted for bravery. As a captain of cavalry in the World War he distinguished himself on the Gallipoli front. He became a major general.

Wrangel turned his sword against the soviet when it came into power and became a trusted aid of Denikin, anti-bolshevist chief.

When Denikin fell, Wrangel retired to the Crimea with Denikin's southern army and established himself as dictator of southern Russia.

In 1920 Wrangel's regime fell under the onslaught of the bolsheviks. He fled with his army to Constantinople and later to Belgrade, where he is now in barracks with 30,000 men.

Baroness Wrangel, daughter of the czar's chamberlain and formerly lady-in-waiting to the czarina, has accompanied her husband through all his victories and defeats.

Baku, reported objective of Wrangel, is a seaport of 300,000 population on the Caspian sea. It was in Persian hands until 1723 when it was seized by Russia.

In 1735 it was restored to Persia, but in 1806 again went back into Russian hands. On May 28, 1918, Azerbaijan was declared an independent soviet republic with Baku as capital.

together in the same field make an excellent ensilage. The millet is sown between the rows of sunflower. Its growth is rapid and it prevents the sunflower from growing rangy. The desired height for the sunflower is about eight feet. Some farmers report the stalks having grown to a height of more than 15 feet.

The sunflower planted at the proper time in this region matures sufficiently early for harvesting of the crop before frost.

RUSSIAN SOVIET GETS HOT SHOT FROM SWEDEN

Premier, Branting Indignantly Protects Imprisonment of 5,000 Georgian So. Democrats

CANNOT ATONE FOR CRIMES

Stockholm, March 27.—The Social Democratic party of Sweden, of which Premier Branting is the head, has sent to the Soviet government of Russia an indignant protest against the imprisonment of 5,000 Socialists in Georgia and Russia.

The message, which was sent to Moscow by a special courier asserts: "The working class of Sweden has received reports regarding the treatment by the Soviet government of Russian and Georgian Socialists, which have aroused stupefaction and anger. Over 200 Russian Socialists of different groups have been forced to resort to hunger strike in order to call the world's attention to the suffering to which they are exposed and in order to obtain forcibly an improvement of their conditions."

"Five thousand Georgian Social Democrats are in prison on account of their not having voluntarily submitted to the force of Russian occupation. Others are deported by thousands or are forced to keep in hiding in order to escape the fate of those already arrested."

"It ought not to be possible that a government that has repeatedly declared itself to be following a policy founded on socialist principles, should submit its Socialist antagonists to such a treatment. It is, however, evident that the reports we receive are truthful, which must mean that the Soviet government ruthlessly violates the fundamental principles of Socialism and in a manner of unbelievable grossness, challenges labor opinion all over the world."

"The crimes which the Soviet power thus committed and commits can hardly be atoned for. We know that we are speaking in the name of a practically unanimous Swedish working class when we are telling you that unless the Russian and Georgian Socialists are set free and humanely treated, the Russian Soviet government will be the object of general detestation within the working class of this country. Deeply agitated and bitterly indignant, we protest against your treatment of Socialists who do not agree with the principles of Communism."

"We cannot forego emphasizing the completely untenable and unconscionable contradiction between the exhortation by the Communist International to the working men of western Europe to form a united front, and the actions of the government, that in the name of Communism yields the power over Russia and some of its protectorates."

FARMERS ARE BUYING LAND

Demonstrate Their Faith in This Section of State

"It has been several years since there have been so many people looking for land," said F. E. Young, of Bismarck today. "With a good crop this year there will be started one of the biggest land movements this vicinity has seen, at least in a great many years."

Farmers are optimists and deserve a lot of credit for their wholesome optimism and their determination, Mr. Young said. All are starting in this spring hopefully, he said.

Through the efforts of Mr. Young five new families have been induced to buy land and settle in Burleigh county during the past few months. E. J. Chesak of St. Anthony has moved into the Eldredge place near Stewartdale; Clarence Shepard of south of Mandan has taken over the McHarvey farm, east of Arnold; K. O. Knutson of South Dakota has taken hold of the Funston farm, south of Menoken; Jos. Gross has moved onto a 400 acre farm north of the city and A. G. Ide is purchasing a tract of land east of Fort Lincoln for the purpose of starting a chicken ranch on a large and up to date manner.

BOLD ROBBERY IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, March 27.—Three masked men held up F. J. Gaddaz, credit manager of the Crescent Creamery company, here today and robbed him of $2,500 in cash and checks.

The robbery occurred within 20 yards of the company's office while the manager was enroute to the bank. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Potato Growers To Meet In Grand Forks This Week

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—A conference of the potato growers of northwest states and of state officials to attempt to gain the ear of the federal officials before the revision of the federal potato grade is made, has been called by Hugh H. Hagher, director of markets of the Minnesota department of agriculture, to be held at Grand Forks, N. D., March 31 and April 1.

State officials, extension department heads, and shippers and representatives of the Northern Potato Traffic association, the Michigan, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana potato exchanges have been invited.

The aim of the conference will be to obtain gradings that will be fairer to the grower. Mr. Hughes points out that the proposed federal grades probably will have the effect of a general widening of the spread between the price received by the producer and the price paid by the consumer. It is contended that the farmer who brings in good products will have no advantage over the purchaser who barely gets within the grade.

The department of agriculture of Minnesota and state officials of North Dakota are co-operating in this movement and hope to be able to get all of the Northwest and central potato growing states behind the movement for an improvement in the conditions as it affects the producers and the consumer.

Railroads Saved Creameries Over $200,000 This Year

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—Minnesota co-operative creameries will have more than $200,000 this year on perishable products, as a result of the action of railroad officials in deciding not to charge the shipper of these products the cost of icing refrigerated cars, when shipments are in less than carload lots, Minnesota Farm Bureau officials said today.

Railroads serving this territory proposed to make shippers of perishable products pay the cost of icing, when shipments were in less than carload lots, according to farm bureau officials. It is estimated that this extra expense could have increased the cost of marketing the state's dairy products by about 12 per cent.

A hearing on this matter was held in Chicago the early part of the month before a group of railroad officials. Representatives of two farm organizations of Minnesota appeared there at the time and argued against the proposed increase.

Minnesota produces 139,000,000 pounds of butter every year. Of this amount it is estimated that about 80 per cent is marketed on the big terminal markets of the east, and that the average freight rate is 2 1/2 cents a pound on less than carloads. On this basis, the co-operative creameries of Minnesota pay the railroads $1,700,592 every year for transporting butter in less than carload shipments. An increase of 12 per cent would have meant adding $204,000 a year to the expense of the co-operative creameries of Minnesota pay the railroads $1,700,592 every year for transporting butter in less than carload shipments. An increase of 12 per cent would have meant adding $204,000 a year to the expense of the co-operative creameries, farm bureau officials point out.

JUDGE ENGLERT WILL ACCEPT

Says He Had Not Sought Nomination for High Court

Fargo, N. D., March 28.—His readiness to accept the judgeship of the supreme court is stated by Judge M. J. Englert of Valley City in a statement he gave out today, commenting upon the action of the Nonpartisan state convention in endorsing him for the supreme court.

Judge Englert says, however, that the endorsement was without his knowledge and consent, and he asserts that "the judiciary should be strictly nonpartisan, and the judge should feel under obligation to no one."

His statement follows:

"Since I have often stated in public and in private that the judiciary should be kept out of politics, and being that I was recently endorsed by the league delegates as a candidate for the supreme court, I feel in duty bound to say that such endorsement was made without my knowledge or consent. While I appreciate most kindly the good will of those that have enough confidence in me that they would elevate me to the highest court of the state, a position which must lurk in the heart of every lawyer that loves his profession, yet I cannot but feel that the position is robbed of much of its honor if secured through partisan strife. Under the law, the judiciary should be strictly nonpartisan, and the judge should feel under obligation to no one."

"Two years ago I was endorsed without my knowledge or consent for judge of the First Judicial district, and only my favorable acquaintance with my fellow members of the bar, and with the people generally made possible my election. That tribute of their confidence in me I shall not knowingly or purposely mar. To have and to hold the confidence and respect of the people are of far greater satisfaction and mean more to me than the mere holding of official position."

"I simply make this little statement to let the public know that I am under obligation to no man or set of men, party or faction except the people of my district. With this short explanation, should my candidacy be put forth and should it be the will of the people that I shall become a member of the supreme court of this state, I will say to them that I shall discharge my duty there as I have here, in accordance with the law and the constitutions of the state and the nation. The past is the best index to the future. The lives and characters of men are not shaped over night."

played in the farm loan department of the Bank of North Dakota.

Under caption of traveling expense it appears that D. E. Stewart, accountant, was advanced $200 cash. No record was found of this money being refunded, or vouchers covering any expenditures.

Travel expense of $84.33 was paid Spraggson O'Dell and $32.80 to K. C. Arness. Their names were not on the salary list.

There was paid the Consumers United Stores Co $800 for a bookkeeping machine but all the bookkeeping was done by hand.

Railroad mileage books were purchased in the amount of $1,500. No record of individual users was found.

Two vouchers of Equitable Audit Co included one amount for $20.00, labeled "6-21-21 W. A. D. to Negben cash," which was the auditor report says, advanced to W. A. Darling, auditor for the Equitable Audit company, by the proprietors of a local cafe. The same was reported true of a $50 item.

A total of $2,890.47 paid for plaster now on hand was written off owing to its poor condition, and the report says materials found in warehouses were in deplorable condition.

A. B. Blakemore, when manager of the association, was authorized to build a temporary lumber shed in Fargo. He built a building on his own land which cost $3,818.03 and now demands the association purchase or lease the property.

In several instances many thousands of dollars were paid to contractors more than the contracts on file in the office called for.

The audit report says: "We also found a large bundle of journal and ledger sheets which had been fully written up and discarded, and the records were apparently entirely re-written."

Although the association spent $25,751.68 for having an elaborate system of bookkeeping installed it was unable to determine the construction costs of the buildings erected, and made its distribution of expenses arbitrarily. The money was paid to the Equitable Audit Company.

Loss $159,480.74.

The report, as has each subsequent report, indicates a more deplorable condition in the Home Building association than had been anticipated.

The balance sheet of the association as at Dec. 31, 1921, shows the following:

Assets.
Current	$13,338.49
Loan contracts, construction accounts	381,461.54
Inventories, real estate	20,708.50
Furniture, tools, etc.	2,936.95
Deficit	159,474.74
Total	$528,480.22
Liabilities.
Accounts payable, savings accounts	$12,143.88
Bank of N. D. loans, interest	416,336.34
State of N. D. appropriation	100,000.00
Total	$528,480.22

The method of establishing the cost of the houses, which was done by the Equitable Audit Company, is shown in the report. "Taking the home of J. N. Hagan, former commissioner of agriculture and labor as an example, the report shows that the total cost of same traceable to the particular job amounted to $3,970.01. Showing how deficient the system was the reports on this job show but $9.50 spent for lumber and $2.35 for hardware. To obtain the total cost of this house, as well as others, the audit company took the amount of money it could not account for, about $160,000 in all, and applied it to the cost of the various houses proportionately.

There was considerable loss in the disposition of materials left on hand after the home building association collapsed last summer, it is shown. There remains, however, $15,356.74 worth of materials on hand. The audit report says that it visited the warehouses and yards at Bismarck and found the materials in a deplorable condition, the method of arranging being such as to depreciate patent shingles and hair insulation and linoleum. Most of this material has since been disposed of.

The audit report confirms previous statements to the effect that the Home Building Association obtained no contracts with the persons for whom homes were built. Commenting upon the bookkeeping system installed by the association the report says that "The only records and information easily accessible to us referred to was limited to one pocket memorandum book carried by Mr. Blakemore, containing a partial list of checks issued; a cash book partially recording receipts, checks issued and deposits made; and check stubs, cancelled checks, bank statements, and an incomplete file of original vouchers and invoices."

Comment of Auditors.

Further the report says: "We also repeat our comments in said report that there was no data, memoranda, or records covering the cost of the individual houses, several of which were completed and occupied and the remainder under construction. There were no supporting records covering the purchase, distribution, inventory or control of the material and supplies. There were no original records of the labor costs other than the payments made therefrom. With one exception, there were no contracts or other evidence of the amounts to be paid for the various buildings, or by whom or when. Not even the form of such contract had yet been determined.

"No conveyances to the owners or corresponding mortgages, as provided by the act, were executed and the title to the properties apparently remained in the state, exempting them from taxation.

"Upon the present examination we found the journals as written up had very little explanation of the entries made therein. The supporting data and explanations of the entries were in the form of vouchers, numerous vouchers were entered correcting a former entry and again a third entry and voucher was entered to correct a former correcting entry.

"We also found a large bundle of journal and ledger sheets which had been fully written up and discarded, and the records were apparently entirely re-written.

"The association, after having this elaborate system installed and written up by the Equitable Audit Co at a cost of $25,741.68 was unable to determine the construction costs of the buildings erected, and the distribution of materials, according to their own report, was made arbitrarily.

"In our examination the records written up were of very little value, as we were obliged to depend entirely upon the original invoices and other data for information as to the distribution of the materials.

"No examination of the sufficiency of title of the various properties was made to us, and we were advised by Mr. F. E. Diehl, manager of the association, that such examination would be undertaken shortly.

"Every facility was afforded us in the within examination, and we acknowledge the assistance and co-operation of Mr. F. E. Diehl, manager, and the members of the Industrial Commission, as required."

MURDER CHARGE IS BROUGHT

David McCutchan, Slope County Farmer, Held to Jury

Amidon, N. D., March 28.—That Walter Inman, 39, Amidon, bowling alley proprietor, came to his death from a revolver bullet fired by David McCutchan, Slope county farmer, was the verdict of the coroner's jury over the body of Inman who died about 38 hours after being shot about two inches below the heart Wednesday forenoon, following an altercation between him and McCutchan over possession of the Fred Gillette farm under a sublease.

While feeling has run high against McCutchan since the shooting, C. P. Brownlee, state's attorney of Slope county, says there is no danger of violence, and that the community remains orderly in awaiting the regular action of the law.

Inman was buried here yesterday afternoon, after the arrival of a sister, Mrs. Charles Brauch of Santa Rosa, Cal. He leaves his father, W. V. Inman, a brother, George, his wife, and three daughters, Thelma, 14, Edna 11, and Dorothy, 2.

SCHAEFER BEATS WILLIE HOPPE

Chicago, March 27.—Young Jake Schaefer, world's 182 balk line billiard champion, last night defeated Willie Hoppe, former title holder, 500 to 466 in the first block of their 1,500 point match.

The play was extremely spectacular, both men doing some wonderful work and each throwing away chances to win near the end through off color work.

Schaefer's work was the more brilliant, the champion giving a splendid display of shot making. Hoppe excelled in consistent position play.

Hoppe's 260 run in the sixth inning unsettled Schaefer, but neither player was able to take advantage of the other's misplays, both missing miserably in the last few innings.

RUSSIA STILL AWAY SHORT ON FOOD AND FUEL

Fuel Shortage Looms Up Even More Prominently Than The Lack of Food

Moscow, March 28.—Russia is approaching her most dreaded season—the early spring—with the realization in government circles that her first year of free trade under Communism has not filled her warehouses with supplies of food to tide her over until the next harvest.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THOROUGH CLEANSING

It is absolutely essential to complexion beauty to wash your face thoroughly once a day. Palmolive makes this cleansing doubly beneficial by its mildness. The profuse, creamy lather penetrates each tiny pore, removing the deposits of dirt, oil and perspiration which cause clogging and enlargement.

Don't neglect the body

Care of the complexion only begins with the face. Your neck is just as noticeable for beauty or the lack of it, arms and shoulders should be kept white and smooth. Use Palmolive for bathing and these results are accomplished. It does for your body what it does for the face.

THE FUNCTIONS OF A BANK

There are many people of wide general information who have only a limited knowledge of the various services of banks. Some think of banking as an exclusive and privileged business exercising an irresponsible power.

The first great step in promoting the exchange of products was the adoption of a common standard of value and medium of exchange; in other words, the development of money. The difficulties of simple barter were so great as to obviously restrict the exchanges. A common standard of value provided a common basis for trade, a means by which commodities could be compared, priced and quoted in different markets, and the universal esteem in which the precious metals were held enabled them to be used as means of effecting exchanges and as standards of value.

RUSSIA STILL AWAY SHORT ON FOOD AND FUEL

Fuel Shortage Looms Up Even More Prominently Than The Lack of Food

Moscow, March 28.—Russia is approaching her most dreaded season—the early spring—with the realization in government circles that her first year of free trade under Communism has not filled her warehouses with supplies of food to tide her over until the next harvest.

With foreign aid, principally American, devoted largely to relieving the terrible distress in the Volga and Ukraine famine regions, Russia promises to be unable to feed the rest of her vast population during the spring and summer, and according to official government predictions, even next year's harvest probably will be bad.

The Functions of a Bank

There are many people of wide general information who have only a limited knowledge of the various services of banks. Some think of banking as an exclusive and privileged business exercising an irresponsible power.

The first great step in promoting the exchange of products was the adoption of a common standard of value and medium of exchange; in other words, the development of money. The difficulties of simple barter were so great as to obviously restrict the exchanges. A common standard of value provided a common basis for trade, a means by which commodities could be compared, priced and quoted in different markets, and the universal esteem in which the precious metals were held enabled them to be used as means of effecting exchanges and as standards of value. The actual shipment of coin, however, for each transaction, would involve much risk and expense, and where trade ran both ways there was an obvious gain by off-setting the transactions, which soon developed the use of bills of exchange.

In due course of time the settlements between distant cities and countries were handled then substantially as now, by a system of book entries and offsets.

A banker today is a bookkeeper and settling agent for his community in its transactions with the outside world.

In backward countries banks are but little used by the masses of the people, and money is hoarded, becoming a dead asset. A bank becomes a pool, into which are drained thousands of small sums, easily wasted, or, if not wasted, unproductive by themselves, and the sums so accumulated become active agencies in the life of the community.

Banks are the servants of business and the relations between the bank and its customers are reciprocal. In each line of trade and industry, it is commonly the case that the use for capital or credit is more or less fluctuating, so that at times each bank customer will accumulate cash balances while at other times needing to borrow. If the business of a bank is well distributed in various lines these fluctuations in individual balances and requirements will offset and compensate each other, thus securing the greatest economy and best results in the use of capital.

J. P. Jackson Is Elected President

The tenth annual meeting of the State Humane and Society for the Friendless was held in Bismarck Friday, March 24, and the reports for the past year were submitted to the members of the Board of Directors. The society visited number 322 present. The miles traveled 32,216 and the conferences and interviews had in the promotion of the work totaled 4,951; while the combined number of complaints investigated where children and animals were involved was 184. Forty-seven children were received and placed either in homes or institutions while 55 children were allowed to remain with parents where it is hoped conditions are sufficiently corrected that they may permanently remain. Much work was also done in the prisoners' aid department, which including miscellaneous service brings the number up to 213. Prisoners' families were visited, interviews were given to the inmates, clothing was supplied to some of their families and other service given. The total receipts for the year including balance in treasury at the end of the year 1920 were $3,397.92. Aside from a small allowance from the state the monies were gathered from the churches, as offerings, from solicitation and from life memberships. The maintenance of the society was $7,572.69 leaving a balance Dec. 31, last, of $315.93. Two new members were added to the Board to fill vacancies viz: Geo. L. Hempstead Jamestown and A. V. Zuber, Essenden. J. P. Jackson, Bismarck, was re-elected president as was J. L. Bell, treasurer. Theodore Koffel, Bismarck, was made vice president. Plans are maturing to take another member on the staff whose special mission will be to serve among the foreign speaking people of the state. The present great need of the society is adequate quarters to take care of the increasing work of handling children. Geo. B. Newcomb still remains as superintendent with headquarters at Bismarck, while J. C. Wilson acts as district superintendent and is stationed at Jamestown.

Scout Notes

TROOP ONE
The construction of a cabin has been taken with much interest by the scouts lately. The cabin was started during Christmas vacation. At that time all of the logs were cut, numbering about fifty. From that time a work progress made slowly as the scouts could work only one day a week and on holidays.

Now the walls have been completed, with the exception of some window frames and the like. Next week we expect to begin work on the roof. This will be constructed of lumber and covered with a good roofing. The success with which we have met in the construction of this cabin is due to the generosity of Mr. B. O. Ward, and others who have shown an interest, as well as the scouts.

MEETING
The cabin committee reported that frames and rafters were on the grounds at the cabin. George Russ

The other troops appointed their editors at their meetings.

AT THE THEATERS

The Capitol

"Perjury," the William Fox special which created a tremendous sensation during its run in a Broadway, New York, theater, opened here last night at the Capitol theater. It is a gripping drama of acute human emotion, and held the audience spell-bound to the end. Again and again, in the dim light of the theater, handkerchiefs flashed white as William Farnum displayed the grief of Robert Moore over the sorrows of his family. The famous screen star is seen first as a vigorous man, happily married, ambitious and successful. Suspicion and jealousy, born of a secret enemy's envy, bring a change, and then comes rage, followed by despair. Prison gates close upon Robert Moore for twenty years, following an unjust conviction of murder, and his wife and children are left to struggle alone in the world. The last scenes show Robert, exonerated and pardoned at 65 years, old for his age, but with all bitterness and animosity eliminated in the crucible of long confinement, leaving a sweetness and gentleness of nature which are exquisitely pathetic. "Perjury" is a picture play which will be long remembered as among the greatest of film productions.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER (Established 1873)

NOT SURPRISING
All the sordid details of the maladministration of the Homebuilding Association fall upon expectant ears. Ever since the hue and cry was raised against the industrial program of the nonpartisan league, enough has come to light to convince those acquainted with the operation of state ownership of the absolute futility of the entire program.
The league failed ignominiously in carrying out its ideas of state socialism and if the I. V. A. persists in plunging the state into business for profit, the same results will attend the efforts of that organization.
Mills, elevators and homebuilding corporations run under the direction of politicians are absorbers of tax money and afford berths for faithful henchmen. It was so under league control and it will be so under I. V. A. control. If the I. V. A. organization is given the same power that the league had, it will not be long before the results are the same. Enough now has been shown to warrant liquidating the entire mess from elevators to state erected homes, but there seems nowhere enough courage on the part of the politicians to part with the fleshpots.
It avails little now as a political issue to rail at the incompetence of a former administration, when a like program is being urged but only under the auspices of different men. History has shown that the principle of state ownership for profit is not sound and under the American scheme of government will not work. If the I. V. A. had a corner on all the political honesty in the world, it cannot make the program work successfully.
Until the political leaders get back to solid ground again there is no relief in sight for the tax payer. The big issue in the next campaign is not going to be what the league failed to accomplish but what are its successors going to do in the way of junking the crazy program and lowering the ruinous taxes? There is the issue in cold type and the courage with which it is faced will determine the kind of government North Dakota will have for the next two years.

BEHIND YOUR BACK
A private telephone apparently no longer protects you from having people listen in on your conversation.
The Society for Electrical Development announces that Alfred E. Proffitt, employed by the telephone company at Providence, R. I., has perfected a radiophone device that enables him to eavesdrop on talk passing over telephone wires.
Proffitt, experimenting with his radiophone, wired his amplifier in some peculiar way that is being kept a secret. Immediately he began to hear local telephone conversations—which he repeated to the talkers, amazing them.
While Proffitt's device still is in embryonic stage of development it opens up a vast new field for the wireless—the possible ending of secrecy, duplicity, intrigue and talking behind one's back.
You cannot sit in your home and eavesdrop on conversation in a house a mile away without mechanical help.
The eavesdropping for some years has been possible by means of the simple dictograph employed by detectives.
The listening-in process is carried a step further by Proffitt's radio discovery. It is not possible that we soon may have a wireless device able to pick up private conversations in distant homes, offices or rendezvous of criminals.
The idea seems uncanny now. So did the wireless telegraph when Marconi first announced its invention.

Civilization will advance with leaps and bounds when secrecy among men is made impossible. Without secrecy there could be no criminal organizations, war plots, illegal trade combines or conspiracies against individual life, honor or fortune.
End secrecy and you end dishonesty born of intrigue.
Suppose a mechanical device were suddenly discovered enabling people to eavesdrop on face-to-face conversation, the same as tapping the wires of a telephone system.
That would end most hypocrisy and deception, also malicious gossip. The things said in secrecy would usually remain unsaid if the talker knew he were being overheard by the one gossiped about, and would be called personally to account.
Enormous are the possibilities of ending secrecy, the cancer of civilization. Proffitt may have opened the way. Maybe not. But this is worth thinking about—that the wireless, as it exists now, is crude compared with what it will be developed into, just as the flint-lock musket of Colonial days was crude alongside the modern machine gun.

The wireless and other inventions to follow will link all human brains in a vast system of mechanical mental telepathy.

ALSACE-LORRAINE
The argument over Alsace-Lorraine has been going on for more than 1000 years—ever since Charlemagne's three heirs fell a-quarrelling over division of his estate, which had Alsace-Lorraine as its center.

Supposedly the peace conference settled this question. It comes to life again.

Funds are being solicited in America, for propaganda to help take the lost provinces from France and set them up as a "Republic of Alsace-Lorraine."

Friends of France take you behind the scenes by pointing out that the address of H. Muth, secretary and treasurer of the movement, is Baden-Baden, Germany.

COST OF RADIOPHONES
Radiophone receiving outfits soon will be as common in homes as phonographs now are. This is predicted by Edwin H. Armstrong. While a student at Columbia University he originated the invention that has made radiophone broadcasting possible.

The best grade receiving-outfits, Armstrong believes, eventually will sell around $200.

He guesses too high. People used to think the same of watches until Ingersoll began stamping them out for $1 apiece.

The radiophone, as it develops, will become less complicated. Elimination of parts will lower the selling price, barring the creation of a monopoly.

YOUTH
Sarah Bernhardt, past 76 years old, contracts to play the part of Eve in Guitry's stage production, "Adam and Eve." The play-wright's father, who will play Adam, is only 63.
What do you think about the great French actress who, at 76, still is young enough at heart to portray Eve before theatrical audiences, always critical?

People who are developing wrinkles, gray hair, dim eyesight and rheumatic joints learn from "The Divine Sarah" that the real fountain of youth is in the soul.

Our bodies inevitably become aged, wear out like old machines. But the ego—the real you—will never grow old if you think youthful thoughts, keep in touch with the latest things and avoid becoming cynical and disillusioned.

REDUCING ARMIES IN EUROPE
The League of Nations, working quietly and without pomp and circumstance, already has a tentative plan to do for European armies what the Washington conference did for the world's navies, that is, cut them down to a fixed ratio of practical sizes. The plan has been submitted to the nations concerned and may form the basis for that European disarmament which our aloofness—advocates, always critical and interfering, accuse the Allies of neglecting.
The league plan sets up a unit of 30,000 men as a basis of allotment and proposes the following ratio: France, 6 (or 180,000 men); Poland, 4; Great Britain, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Spain, 3 each; Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland, 2 each; and Portugal, 1. The figures for Italy, Yugoslavia and Greece are not yet reported. Those of Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Bulgaria, were fixed by the peace treaties. Russia is the newly washed hair; "you simply can't do anything with it."
The thirty-six units of the above list represent 1,080,000 men, or about one-half of the force now held under arms by the countries in question. The proposal is therefore a real cutting-in-two of Europe's land armies.—Chicago Evening Post.

EVERY GIRL'S MAKE-UP TECHNIQUE
Miss Evangeline Booth expressed alarm in San Francisco lately at the little tricks of deception which women in that clear Western air have apparently taken to trying on men. To powder one's nose, to touch up the hair with a bit of golden glint, to bring the bloom of youth to the cheeks from the rouge pot on the dresser are dishonest wiles, she thinks. Not only does she deem such warfare barbarous, but she holds its tricks responsible for many unhappy marriages and ultimate divorces. "Men want women as nature intended they should be," she adds as a parting shot.
But there is the trouble: If women were as nature intended they should be, they would have no use for paint and powder.
The real error of women who attempt to deceive the masculine eye consists perhaps in making—sometimes—a bad job of it. After all, the average man has some slight gift as a judge of a womanly beauty. He consents with proper coaxing to be fooled, he is even anxious to be fooled; and yet, even in this murkier coasts' climate, he cannot help discovering the cosmetic disguise, pretty often for a sham, and a poor one at that.—Baltimore American.

AIN'T IT?
By Berton Braley
Dawn's something gorgeous to see,
Sunset is beautiful, too,
I think it's jolly to be
One of humanity's crew;
Watching the clouds in the sky,
Smelling the flowers, dew-pearled,
Seeing the stars riding high;
Ain't it a wonderful world
Winter, that's white with the snows,
Summer, that's decked out in green,
Spring, when the foliage grows,
Fall, when the breezes are keen;
Say, it's a pippin, this earth,
Like a kaleidoscope whirled,
Brilliant with color and mirth,
Ain't it a wonderful world?
People? They're mostly all right,
Women are gentle and sweet,
Most of the men-folks are white,
Decent and pleasant to meet;
Life's a continuous show,
Nix on the crepe you've unfurled,
Taking it all in, all, bo,
Ain't it a wonderful world?

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts
When Twelve Toes, away up in the sky in the form of a bat, saw the Twins waken, he shrieked with rage. After all his trouble of going to the Magician's Star and throwing down terrible dreams to the children, this was the end of it.
Nancy turned back from the precipice she had nearly fallen over, and Nick turned back from the thorny path which might have torn him to pieces, and they reached the little bush at the same time, the little bush under which they had slept, and near which they had buried the record to keep it safe.
"Oh, Nick," cried Nancy. "I'm so glad to see you. Why did you go away and leave me?"
"And why did you?" asked Nick. "I didn't know I was going," said Nancy. "I must have walked in my sleep."
"Neither did I," declared Nick. "I must have, too!"
"It must likely was Twelve Toes again," said Nancy. "But we'll have to get the record, and hurry along. There's the sun coming up now."
"Let's get first," said Nick, remembering about the basket.
Instantly the little basket appeared, containing hot porridge and cream, oat, fruit and cocoa. And the Twins it like the hungry little travelers they were. One can't climb mountains and have so many thrilling adventures without getting up a good appetite.
When they had finished, the little basket disappeared, and now the Twins were ready to go on their way.
"I'll get the record," said Nick, going over to the big stone behind which they had hidden it, under some gravel.
"It's gone!" he called an instant later. "It's not here at all! Someone has taken it! Come here, Nancy, quick!"
Nancy hurried as fast as her legs could carry her. What Nick said was true. There was nothing there but a little hollowed out place in the ground where the record had been.

It means—to strike out, cancel, eliminate, edit, to remove certain words or passages.
It comes from—Latin "expungere," to prick with dots.
It's used like this—"There is much discussion as to whether motion picture censors shall continue to expunge parts of dramas they do not like."

Architect Visits Mandan Park Board
Phelps Wyman of Minneapolis, landscape architect, was in Mandan yesterday in conference with the Mandan Park commissioners, and despite the unfavorable weather made a trip around the city yesterday afternoon to get the lay of the ground.
Mr. Wyman will probably spend three or four days in the city and before he leaves may outline the basis of a park system which he will recommend for carrying out. As the landscape architect for the Minneapolis Park commission, Mr. Wyman has won a national reputation and the Mandan commission is fortunate to have secured his services.

THE BAKING POWDER QUESTION SOLVED
Most housewives proclaim that the baking powder question was solved for them the moment they used the first spoonful of Calumet. After that no doubt remained—no hoping—no searching for a perfect leavener—no wondering if bakings would "turn out all right."
CALUMET BAKING POWDER

BEGINS FIGHT FOR M'CUMBER

Active Work to Start in Few Days, Says Manager

Fargo, March 29.—The active campaign for the renomination of Porter J. McCumber for United States senator will begin in a few days, according to R. J. Hughes of Wabpeton, who opened headquarters here yesterday as campaign manager.

"While the active campaign to reseat Mr. McCumber has not yet begun, it will commence within the next few days and will be continued up until June 28, the date of the primaries," Mr. Hughes said.

That a bitter fight for the senatorial toga will ensue, is the contention of Mr. Hughes. He says that, "while no walk-away" is expected for Mr. McCumber, his supporters do feel confident that he will win out in the primaries.

Mr. Hughes stated that he is in charge of the McCumber campaign from a personal standpoint and because of his long acquaintance with, and admiration for the senator, whose home is at Wabpeton.

"I am not a politician, but I simply am going to be active in Mr. McCumber's behalf, because I feel that in view of his long service to the people of North Dakota and because of the position he holds in the senate—that of chairman of the finance committee, Mr. McCumber should be returned."

It is very probable that Mr. McCumber will appear in North Dakota toward the latter part of the campaign in his own behalf, according to his manager.

"DRY" OFFICER CASE REVERSED

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Grants New Trial

Fargo, N. D., March 28.—The verdict of the United States district court jury that held R. B. Leady, former prohibition agent for North Dakota, guilty of the charge of transporting liquor, has been reversed by the United States circuit of appeals.

W. H. Barnett, of Fargo, of the firm of Barnett and Richardson was advised of the decision.

Leady was convicted and sentenced to a year in the federal penitentiary and two other defendants, E. O. Hogen and Theodore Mueggler were convicted and given short sentences, which they served.

Leady made his appeal to the circuit court of appeals on the basis that evidence that had been admitted, was not admissible under the law.

The arrest of Mueggler at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, while he was in the possession of an automobile load of liquor and the story that he told to officials; that the liquor had been given to him by Leady, was the basis of prosecution.

The decision gives Leady a new trial but the probabilities are that the case will not be prosecuted.

ASK HARDING FOR ADDRESS

Presence at Missoula, Montana, Meeting of Editorial Association Asked

Washington, March 28.—President Harding is shaping plans for his Alaska trip next summer so that he can attend the 37th annual convention of the National Editorial association to be held at Missoula, Mont., early in July. The President is a paid up member of the National Editorial association and proud of his affiliation with this organization of newspaper owners. Such an address would be of national interest.

Preparations are made for two special de luxe trains to transport the editors during their entire tour of 21 days, starting and ending at Chicago.

Besides visiting Yellowstone and Glacier National parks, the newspaper party will travel over the vast stretch of Montana, stopping in 20 or more towns and passing through the mining and agricultural districts of the state. Part of the journey will be by water, up Flathead lake, which is one of the many scenic spots that lie outside of Yellowstone and Glacier National parks.

Missoula is making extensive arrangements to entertain the visitors during the three days they will be there for the convention. All the other towns on the itinerary are vying with one another in plans to show their hospitality.

Special entertainment will be provided in Yellowstone park, where the semi-centennial celebration of this national playground will be in full swing. And later on the trip, when the editors arrive in Glacier park they will be greeted in a picturesque manner by the original inhabitants of the Rocky mountain country, the Black-foot Indians, who still stick to their tribal custom of registering their arriving guests with the mammoth quill of the golden eagle.

The editors will stop at Medora, N. D., to unveil a tablet to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt.

More and Better Light

FOR more than 30 years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a big refiner of kerosene oil.

During all this time there has been a steady improvement in the quality of its product. This improvement has been more marked in the past ten or fifteen years during which time the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed methods of manufacturing to eliminate the danger of lamp explosions.

While the kerosene has been improved the devices for using it have remained unchanged.

Recognizing the fact that the users of Perfection Kerosene were unable to get a maximum service from the oil they burned, and realizing that the failure was due not to the oil but to the devices, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) set its experts to work to find a better burner and a more efficient chimney.

These men, working with the manufacturers of burners and chimneys, have succeeded in developing devices which increased largely the efficiency of the oil.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does not sell lamps. But it believes that the users of lamps should be informed as to how to get the best results from the kerosene they use.

To accomplish this result this Company is distributing sixty thousand of the new burners and chimneys to dealers handling kerosene that they may demonstrate to their patrons how to get the most light from Perfection Kerosene by using appliances correctly designed.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has arranged with leading chimney manufacturers to stamp chimneys made in accordance with the design and specifications with the following trade-mark:

This is but one of the many ways in which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) seeks to increase the efficiency of the service it is rendering the people of the territory it serves.

A Home that is Cooler in Summer and Warmer in Winter

WHEN one considers the great difference in average temperatures between our most northern and southern States, the nation-wide use of LUMBER for home-building must be based on very solid reasons.

Indeed, the more the science of building is studied—the more confirmation one finds for the sound commonsense which leads to the use of lumber in nine out of ten homes in America today.

Because standard lumber construction is resistant to heat transmission from within in winter and from without in summer. It is equal to twelve inches of brick, lathed and plastered, and practically equivalent to thirty-six inches of solid concrete or sixteen inches of hollow tile.

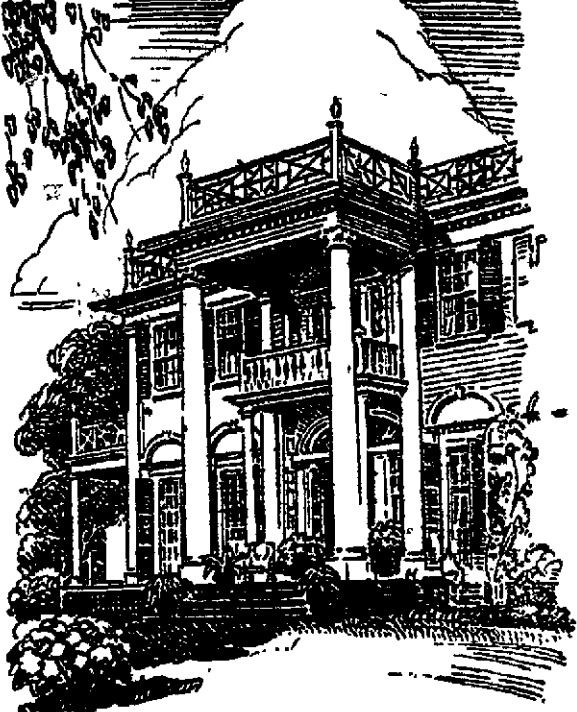

It keeps dampness out.

Standard lumber construction provides maximum comfort at minimum cost.
